

Windisch Law Offices unveils new Website

Platform provides regular information updates on the latest legal topics.

Vienna legal consultants Windisch Law Offices recently launched their redesigned Website. Lawyer and company founder Dr. Bettina Windisch-Altieri says: “We particularly wanted to further enhance the information experience for visitors to our website.”

The new Website offers regular updates on current legal debates and court rulings, as well as helpful legal tips for day-to-day business.

The current news update focuses on Google™ Adwords and Google™ Analytics –visitors can read about the prudent use of these online analysis tools. On entering the website www.windischlaw.com, the visitor is greeted by a Google™ Analytics disclaimer.

“Such disclaimers should always be included” explains Dr. Bettina Windisch-Altieri. As yet, there has been no court ruling on whether IP addresses drawn upon for the analysis are classified as personal data. Ms. Windisch-Altieri adds: “You will always be on the safe side by adding this disclaimer to your company website”.
